The seal of the President of the United States is faintly visible in the background, centered behind the text. It features an eagle with a shield, holding an olive branch and arrows, surrounded by stars and the words "SEAL OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES".

"The trained American possesses qualities that are almost unique.

Because of his initiative and resourcefulness, his adaptability to change and his readiness to resort to expedient, he becomes, when he has obtained a proficiency in all the normal techniques of battle, a most formidable soldier. Yet even he has his limits; the preservation of his individual and collective strength is one of the greatest responsibilities of leadership."

Members of Class 58-C
Squadron Officer School
Air Command and Staff College
Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama

May I extend my sincere congratulations to you upon your graduation from the Squadron Officer School. The association the faculty and I have had with your class has been warm and friendly. I shall look forward to meeting you again as we continue our service careers.

This class has been unique in Squadron Officer School history. Your class was the first in the student expansion program and as such was the first to occupy the largest facilities in the Air Command and Staff College complex. Collectively you represented a new high in educational qualifications.

I have been impressed by the professional approach you have demonstrated in your work here. There have been many examples of extra individual effort and free expression of mature ideas. You also have accepted our rigid testing program and competitive atmosphere which we have purposely imposed upon you.

I sincerely hope the experiences you have had here will serve as a foundation for continued efforts to provide a greater security for the future through air power. I wish you success and happiness in the future.

Sincerely,

ROBERT J. LOUGHRY

AND NOW WE PRESENT

IN THE

First we registered.....

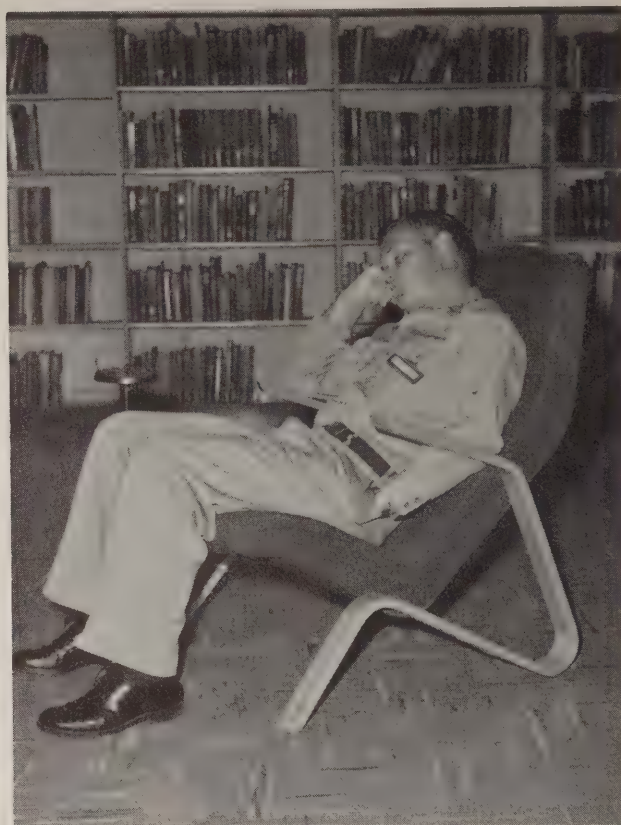

Then General Carmichael welcomed us.....

There was a long day of tests

But coffee kept us on the beam

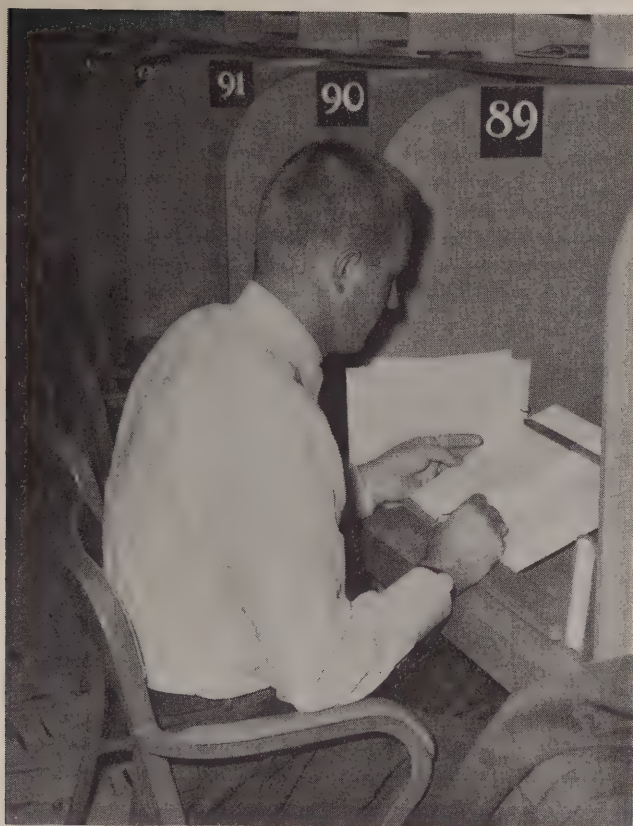

Yes, it was a long, long, day!

It's a good thing we rested the first few days...because sleep was not a school solution...Between the Staff Study, Air Power Report, and Slasher, we were lucky to get six hours sleep...And then there was P.T....

BEGINNING

Variety every day....?
but it beat the mess hall...!

We learned how to study for tests.....

and still.....

FIRST DAY'S HANDOUTS

We thought this a joke, but it wasn't.

11,479 books and handouts...
AMC, ADC, TAC,...we learned about all...and then there was SAC...that was a real problem...

We were all physical wrecks.

SECOND DAY'S HANDOUTS

Oh well!

"Capt. Charlie" made it through...

"THINK" – in Latin it is COGITO – In English it means to determine, resolve, work out by reasoning. THINK is the first word in a theme adopted by the Class Book Staff for 58-C. THINK-STUDY-LEARN-PROGRESS; this was the sequence at SQUADRON OFFICER SCHOOL, and you will follow this pattern throughout your career. You are the FUTURE and the LEADER upon whose shoulders rests tomorrow's Air Force.

TOGETHERNESS AT S. O. S. ?

— The Seminar Group —

Captain Charlie sure knows how to hold an audience!

TOGETHERNESS AT S. O. S. ?

— Family Activities —

"SOME STUDENTS BROUGHT THEIR FAMILY FOR A VACATION--"

TOGETHERNESS AT S. O. S. ?

— Parties and Balls —

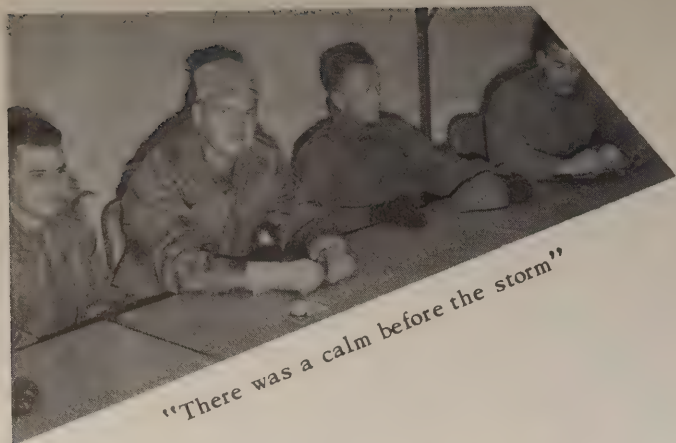

Poor thing — She doesn't know the first thing about FASHIONS.

THINK

TIGER TREK

"There was a calm before the storm"

"To Go or not to go--that was the question."

We thought you had the marshmallows

"Alas! Poor Yorick. We knew him well"

"Hey McGootch! Wherefore Art Thou?"

"Meanwhile, back at the ranch"

"There was a summit conference"

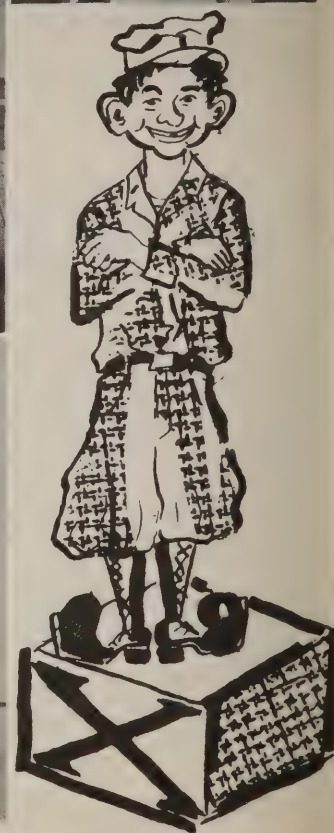

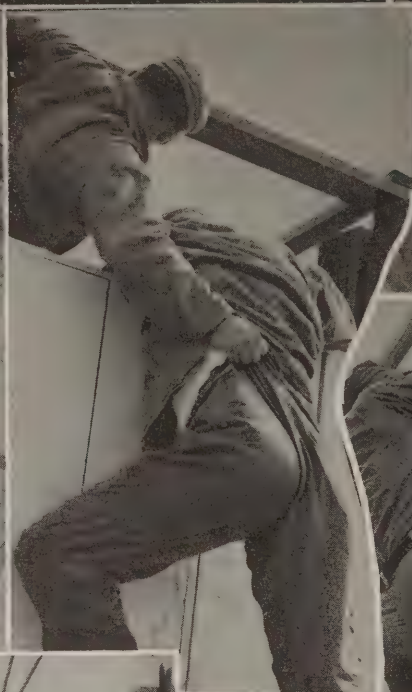

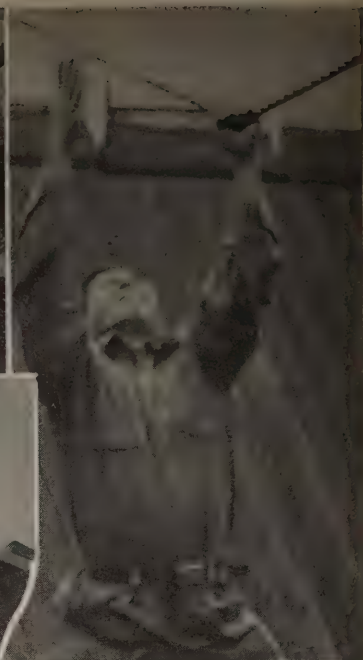

"We made a sound and timely decision"

"Now Coach!"

"Hey Joe," "Send up two cups of coffee".

PROJECT "X" - Desired Learning Outcomes: Confusion, Frustration, Fear and Sheer Panic

Is this trip necessary?

An officer is always dignified.

"Hang down your head, Tom Dooley."

There must be another way.

Coaching from the sidelines?

One was an attitude case.

IMPORTANT QUOTES: Bob B: I may be in SAC but I don't have to like it!-Jay: I don't mean to butt in, BUT!-Nate: Wake me up when this lecture is over!- Al W: You should see the amount of gas we pass!-Rey: You guys make me clutch more than a whole class of my students!- Plowden: If I hear the word SAC again, I'll O'Rouke!- Al F: How come the dummy was named after me?! Chester: What do you mean, I agree with de Seversky 99%?- Ted: You guys just back me, we'll all be rich.! Will: How come some of you big guys can't carry the stretcher?- Jack: I may be handicapped, but I'm still President of the Stein Club.- Bill: Let's get another bottle of leap frog milk.- Matt: Use the problem solving technique and that.

S E C T I O N 12

The early bird gets the worm, but in this case Early got the Birds, Section 12, the group of guys who can do nothing singly and together decided nothing could be done. These "classic" statements we shall always remember. "Hey, Mac, where the hell are we?" "Aw shut up, if you want to lead here's the map and compass." "But Doc Walter, your system doesn't work." "Everything I like is fattening." "When I came here I had an inferiority complex; now I realize it wasn't a complex." "But, do the Commies really believe that bunk?" "I didn't know the AU Library Annex was at Gunter." "Do you really know what I like about you, Mick? NOTHING!" "Move back and let us see too!!"

SECTION 14

From Section 14 how could we ever forget: Bennett - the quiet Texan....Buenconsejo - the Hawaiian Elvis Presley....Bray - the LITTLE Tiger....Gallie - "Between you, me, and the lamp-post...." Kivette - "Back on the farm"....Knapp - "I object, the RESERVES will rise, again"....Macomber - the Golden Tongue....McKenrick - "Down in the coffee bar"....Morgan - "We need a dollar from each of you, GOOD MORNING." Piner - "The B-52 is a defensive weapon." Poe - "Go, Jim Dandy!" Rizer - "You call it HAM; I call it CORNED BEEF." Smith - "But, I did get a haircut"....Major Link - "I'm no expert, but it appears to me"....

SECTION 15

This was Charlie Seymour's infamous Section 15. It included the indigenous TURK; Bob Lis, the expert on base traffic regs; Lil Mac with his "Good Morning, Gentlemen"; John L. with his disguised "overbearing attitude"; Big Don, so pretty in his blues but so awful in his tans; "Blow-em-up" Bill G., at our dining-in with his disciple, Major de Seversky; Fes, "I won't comment, you guys will just argue about it anyway"; Stu, with his naturally big feet being thrown out of the soccer game; the funny man, J.D., with "his kind of people"; Tex, the tiger on the guitar who looks like he probably grew up on the east end of a tough street; the "Mach 2 buster", P. Hanneman, known to all as the "supersonic G-man"; V. Breuer, and his love for "phono art" on the soapbox for bigger and better "pinups"; and Al Owens, the fighter jock doomed to mucho engines whose last retort was "buy bonds."

SECTION 16

The members of Section 16 were known as Bill Sherret's "BOOKIES" - not because of their talents with the horses or in the academic department, but because of their tremendous talent at producing an outstanding CLASS-BOOK. These guys were "hand-picked" volunteers; and it looks like Bill did a better job than the IBM -- he got thirteen RUGGED individualists. They were: "Wink" - the Editor, and father of "Lil' Jimmy Pitts"... "Hoppy" - the Asst. Editor, and "Champeen" of the Juarez shuffle... Baron, - a poet of some note and a mighty fine man to have on any job... "Sonic" Sid, this guy was kin to Al Capp and he could turn out the cartoons as fast as he could fly... Bill P - the FIRST artist of OUTER SPACE (Look at the book, Man, and you'll see the good stuff)... Vern - the professional "belly-button" shutter man... Bill D - the Texas-crime-photographer (Yeah, every picture he took was a "blurdy" crime)... Don - an outstanding portrait artist and a demon on "scrounging from disposal"... Keith - an excellent idea man and a noted "underwater" skier... Al - a TOP-NOTCH business man who knew how to make the sales (Dismount, Men, and talk 'em to death!)... Dan - an Irish tenor and our "Bobbie Burns"... Hal - a displaced farmboy from the South-Forty looking for a job as a cott'n pickin' clerk typist... Doug - the Distinguished King of Brevity (Why say BLAH, BLAH, BLAH, ----when BLAH will do!). The members of "Olde 16" have two claims to fame: They have produced the BEST CLASSBOOK, and THEY were the BEST FED of any section in the school. Our deepest appreciation goes to the lovely wives who were such good cooks and cheerleaders. (You betchem, Red Ryder!)

S E C T I O N 17

On 11 September 1958, 15 men of various sizes, shapes, and descriptions were designated, Section 17. Of these 15 men, two can be described as small obstacles to logical reasoning and sound organization. The first, Major (Stormy) Grantham, our section leader--the second, Lt. Col. (Slim) Allen, our faculty advisor. The remaining 13 had only one thought and purpose in mind, which was: act together we can deviate, singly we get brainwashed. We will always remember: Bennett-"Bullwacky, TAC will never die." Blair-"I don't know Joan's address." Broz-"Save Houston!!" C.C.-"SAGE and go-pills." Black-"That'll be $1.77 plus 5%." Charlie-"My wife gets nervous when I give her a speech." Rogers-"A broken arm, and ride that thing? No, thanks!" Herm-"Charlie, do you know where the BX is?" Loren-"It really didn't scrape long!" Miller-"Actually, SAC is part of the Air Force". Jerry-"I told you guys but no one heard me." Hines-"Eye balls, Martunies, and Pentomic Armies." Val-"I can jump that fence!!" Major Grantham-"You see, I knew that rainshower was going to hit." Lt. Col. Allen-"What about the inner tubes?" GOOD LUCK, FELLAS.

S E C T I O N 19

As we members of "Big Red" head back to our home stations, we will take with us much more than DLO's. We have memories of Aaron and his "last minute" staff study, Ivar's constant mature wisdom, Skip and his tire conservation program for "T-Birds", Gil assuring us "It's all right", Maurie leading us in basketball, Fred's striptease, the wives feeding us after the games, and all that beer we drank while everyone else played Tiger Trek (with Gary clearing the place out later). What happens if you walk far enough South? The great guy that led the section and many more! Don't forget -- keep those hands up and really hustle. See you later in CSS.

The COGITO Staff was composed of thirteen members of the Class of 58-C and their Faculty Advisor. These officers volunteered their talents, services, and most of their "after school hours" to the task of compiling your 58-C Classbook. There were a multitude of obstacles to overcome.

All of the members of Class 58-C have contributed in some way to the success of this book. The staff appreciates all of your generous assistance. Particularly, the staff appreciates the professional assistance given by Mr. Ted Kiper in accomplishing the portrait photography.

We hope that you will enjoy COGITO in the many years to come in the same manner that we have enjoyed producing it for you. The staff members were:

Faculty Advisor: Capt. W.G. Sherret, Jr.
 Editor: "Wink" Harris
 Asst. Editor: "Hoppy" Hotman
 Copy and Layout Dept.: Baron Mintz, Hal Hester
 Art Dept.: Don Surratt, Bill Porter, Sid Sautter

SECTION 21

In common with other sections we had several natural leaders who immediately stepped to the fore (and who were immediately trampled in the rush to the BAR). We weren't too bad a section, actually--just from the school's point of view. We spent many hours at COD trying to learn the position of "Attention". Under the leadership of the ROAD RUNNER we spent many happy 'beer and bull' parties after losing a ball game, analyzing our defects and setting up strategy for the next game. Finally, we won a game and didn't quite know what to do--just kinda wandered away. The next week we lost again and were back happily drinking beer and analysing defects. Most of us were either going to or coming from overseas assignments--and that's the way we like to keep it. As we look back over the last four months with all their accomplishments, triumphs, and hangovers; we can best sum up our stay by using our old section motto: "FORGET IT".

S E C T I O N 22

Long will the war cries of Section "Double-Deuce" echo through the halls of SOS. Listen now and you can hear them. The lusty cry of our "relaxed" leader can be heard at the head of the pack. It sounds like this: Rich, "Pick up the bounce"; Ike, "Let's give it a ruddy go"; Earl, "I'm me and you're you, so who cares"; Cater, "I'm not in the AF, I'm a medic"; Paul, "When you send out them sorties, you got to expect them losses"; John, "It isn't the size that counts"; Frank, "According to the statistics..."; Phil, "Even tigers have to sleep sometime"; George, "Nothing to say, just puffing away"; Ken, "I don't know, but in my opinion.."; Gene, "Nashua, Hoof-Hearted, and Man-O-War"; Bill, "Ten thousand hours on one set of batteries"; Doc, "They are not so good, we're beating ourselves"; and Art, "Well, since the rest of you are married--",

S E C T I O N 23

"Let's go social" - this was the battle cry of Section 23. Sackman's fantastic spastics really set a pace. We started slow in PT, but when the chips were down and the long pull came, we gave our usual sparkling performance and FAILED. To various members of the section, we wish to donate certain mementoes: Kuhlman - permission to re-enter SOS and to major in calisthenics. Morgan - A bigger car and a book on gamesmanship. Hoffman - a book on effective speaking and a bottle of booze. Smith - a C-45-1 and a troop carrier badge. Morris - a new finger and a bunch of free French lessons. Reed - Smellier cigars and seven free flying lessons. Potochnik - a new address book and a gratis knee operation. Searing - TDY away from home for ten years. Buschman - a device for locating lost shoes. Rote - a mobile bar. Powell - elevator sneakers. Vogel - the "Dirty Players" Award. Ruhsam - A box of fireworks. Sackman - a section that wins, and seven "Hero" medals for his mess dress uniform. Don't forget our motto: "What-me worry?"

S E C T I O N 24

Unity, spirit, and enthusiasm marked our section. From a beginning of diverse backgrounds and experience, Al and Fred welded us into a single unit. All contributed to our goal. Jim handled the money. Moby mumbled the suspense dates. Ron had the plan, and the two Charlies had the school solution. Our coaches, Bill C., Jim, Bob, Ken, and Bill Coggin, led us to sufficient victories so that we were able to select soccer as our league sport. Under Tom, Khuong, and Fred, we proceeded to show the school how to play the game. Through all of our efforts, we learned that teamwork promised success. The wives and girl friends provided the strong morale so necessary to our success as an outstanding section. W.H.T.F.P.

SECTION 25

Section 25, with Major Sully at the helm,
Has led this group to a lofty realm.
We have people here from SAC, TAC and ADC,
And even MATS, AMC and ATC.

This section, composed of a varied lot,
Is one that is extremely hot.
We have Paul Boomer and Lord Windesmere,
And a guy called the Bear Cub who doesn't like beer.

Included in the group is our coach, P.Q.,
Navigators, Sestak and Reinhart who always flew;
Pilots, Moffitt, Hosman, and Rolfsen too,
Are hot jet jocks among this crew.

We have Able Willie and the Charleston Kid,
And Speedy Gonzales, who never flips his lid.
The knave called O'Brien is a crafty one,
Who does much to make this group the BEST one.

This illustrious section of Class 58-C,
Is composed of future generals, MAYBE?

S E C T I O N 26

We were the Tiger Trek Champs of Group B. Handling our "stretcher case" with the utmost of care, and skillfully seeking out each contact point, we completed the problem! Our most outstanding feat on the sports field was the absence of fatalities; no broken bones, but a few near misses. Through the dense atmosphere of the section room, we stared at each other and applied the problem-solving technique to all comers. This may not have been in accordance with the school solution, but it fit into the overall picture. We have finished the course, so they say, yet we live to fight another day.

SECTION 27

Our fourteenth week counseling found the psychiatrist saying: Alexander - "I'll never understand how you became Mr. Vice." Bertoldo - "Is it really true that the price of lettuce is cheaper on Guam?" Cady - "Your wife is sure proud of that Air Power report your son wrote for you." Doyle - "Is it true that Mr. Dulles and Mr. Kennan only disagreed on how you could buy a new Buick without paying for it?" Feinberg - "I hear that the only weapons for your new delivery system are potatoes and expectant nurses." Iwanoski - "Yes, for your B-47 to be penetrative, it has to fly over 200,000 ft. and must also fly backwards." Mitchell - "The fact that you got 34 runs in four games and lost four games, is no reason to ask, 'What's the school solution?'" Parks - "Just because you were lucky enough to be a Communist B-W agent, is no justification for flunking all the school's exams." Pearson - "No, no, no, I won't bet that you can get a four megaton yield out of that Roi-Tan." Rychlec - "Valid syllogism...some people sleep some of the time, nobody sleeps ahead of time, but hell, you sleep all of the time." Swanson - "Retrograde hell, you can't see home plate from the North Star." Townsend - "How can we defend Detroit if Section 34 attacks Commingrad?" Vavra - "Thanks, but I just wouldn't feel right on a long range bomb mission with a helicopter escort."

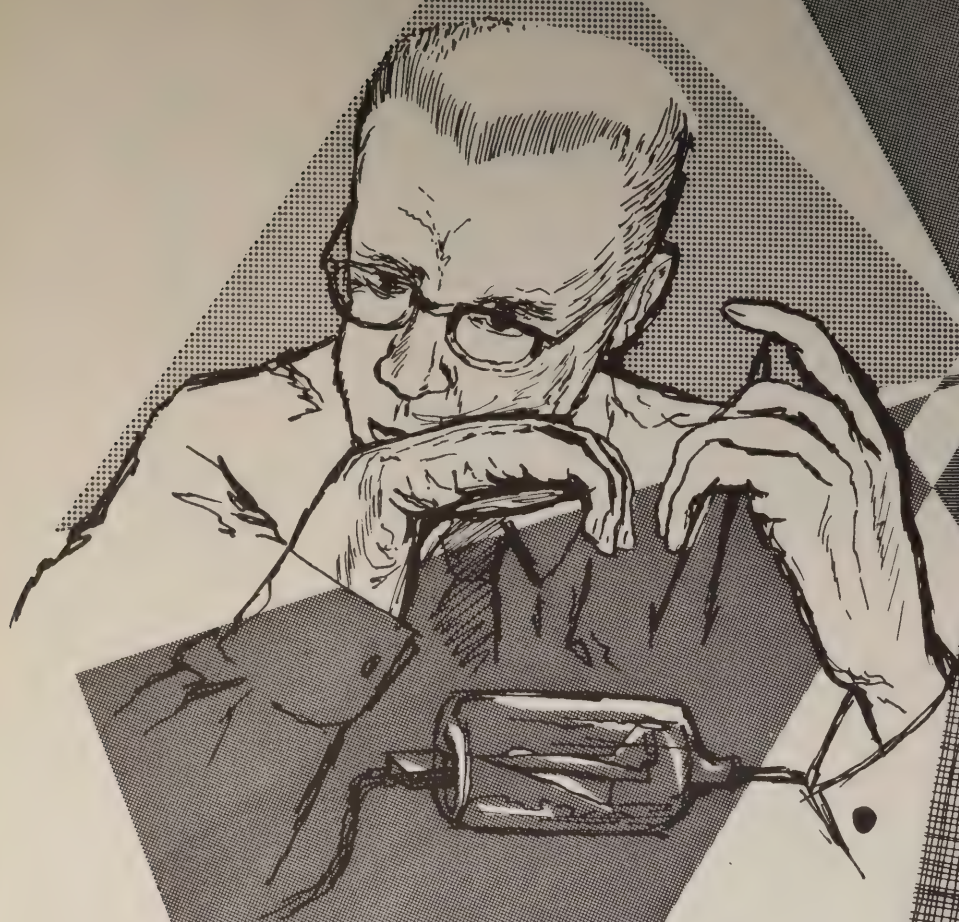

S E C T I O N 28

To the future members of Section 28, we each leave a distinctive characteristic for Major Bisher to distribute as needed. We grant: Les Candee's outfield post to those with sturdy shins, Bob Irvin's optimism to the skeptics, Joe Smith's wit to the serious minded, E. Watson's SAC solution to all non-SAC members, M. Tolle's will to win to the timid, B. Craft's persuasive ability to the undecided, Woody's war stories to the younger officers, Weigle's staff study to the future fieldhouse, Bill Rippy's athletic ability to the uncoordinated, B. Moravec's pipe to the cigarette smokers, Thurston's Hawaiian War Chant to the music lovers, Curran's team spirit to the disorganized, and J. Watson's coolness to the excitable.

Group C Section Leaders

SECTION 31

This section represents the SOS Band, a conglomeration of musicians from all the commands. We learned how to produce some music----some good, some bad. Our leader (now he ARE one), Sam Bass, brought much experience with him. Other seasoned musicians included dance hall drummer, Castellucci; society saxophonist, Greynolds; the inimitable trumpeting of Shaw, and the jumping trombone of Strobaugh. There was quiet Bill Postom and the reticent Bill Turner. Then we had tuba-happy Robertello, two comedians on the trombones---Despres and Holubec, another good trumpeter in Richardson, and a great asset to the saxophone section in "lover" Jim Watson. Finally, the big man, Weiland, and our "player-piano" piano player, Shunney. Our section owes much of its success to Capt. Jack Miller, and Maj. Jerry Hayter.

SECTION 32

Section 32 personalities--most notably the bachelors and BOQ boys who spent most of their time at the blood bank getting donations, and the girls cheering on the sidelines. "Den Mother" Col. Horton and "Parade Winner" Glenn managed to lead us safely through the perils of Tiger Trek, Project X, and that crazy "chinese firedrill" (T-bird, Bug-Smasher traffic patterns). There was "Long Ball" Edwards making us sweat out the birth of a boy, whom he immediately enrolled in SOS class of '73. There were "Mr. Pos" Barker making attitude checks--our Montgomery-to-Phoenix "Suitcase Student," Cappelli--"Communicate to Graduate" Conway--right hand man "plaster of Paris" Gil--"UFO" Halteman, who talked his way to the group speech contest,--"Over-the-Shoulder Comments" Burris--and "Sore Arm" Taylor, who pulled us through 3-2. We had "Injun Scouts" Harris and Madison, and "Filling Station Operator" (mit der vings) Coach Craft. Our gap filler was "Flag Winner" Patrick, who excelled in athletics, academics and prestige. We left SOS light-hearted and with one DLO, "On to bigger and better crises."

SECTION 33

The "Bird Dog" of Group C, that's Section 33. We were a "typical" SOS section. How do we know? Just look at us! We have: Borgman, he flies the brass in D.C.; Chris, Oley and his Swede jokes; Chuck, the instructor, and his "Kick the tire, light the fire, and smoke off"; Capt. Burr, our glorious leader; Ellis, the whistler on Tiger Trek; Big Ed, the only Lt. in the section with over 3000 hours; Jim, and his "If I could just pass the physical!"; Red, who knows that it is a long way from Westover to Maxwell on a motor scooter; Simmons, with his "Doggone seagulls keep gettin' in the paper mill"; Eager, "The 104 will never replace the deuce"; Smitty, "The Navy will never replace the 104"; Rip, a Big, Happy, Young (you name it); Dick, the hero of a modern day Cinderella story, Thule to Florida; Major Jim, a brave man, with 7 kids and 13 SOS students; and we didn't have "Mildred". This is (???) typical! We didn't make the highest grades and we weren't the best ball players, but we had plenty of spirit.

S E C T I O N 34

WHAT HAS SOS TAUGHT YOU

DOUG - "Contrary to the school solution, SAC is the only air command"; JOE - "It's difficult to be successful in school on two hours sleep per night"; RAY - "Shut up and deal"; PAUL - "The replacement of men by IBM machines is inevitable"; ROGER - "I didn't really want to go to Formosa"; GUS - "The Air Force revolves around AC&W"; JIM - "Remember the DLO"; MIKE - "We introverts find our academic freedom somewhat limited"; KEN - "As a point of departure, I found SOS not too comprehensive"; NORM - "It doesn't change my date of rank"; BOB - "I found washing blackboard and delivering messages the most exhilarating experiences in my 11 years of military service"; GENE - "Tiger Trek was unrealistic since poor Charlie didn't measure up anthropologically to any known standards"; TARZAN - "By the utilization of his resources to the maximum potential, this officer was afforded the ever present opportunity to assimilate knowledge of a minimal quality and quantity, besides, they didn't learn me nothing"; BILL - "Doesn't anyone like soccer? Let's vote again....and again and again...."(Editors note, we chose volleyball.)

SECTION 35

Desired or not, every officer discovered his own learning outcome at SOS. Section 35 has this to say; JOHN, "The basic human needs also include home, mother, and mashed potatoes"; STEVE, "The Air Police are not the major deterrent force"; TOM, "One softball game isn't a true evaluation"; JOE, "There isn't a UMD in the entire Air Force for Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Siegel"; DAN, "I must look like somebody you've met before"; ORV, "Maybe there are one or two other commands besides SAC"; FRED, "The 15 minutes between lectures are really for meditation"; CHRIS, "The B-36 is not as obsolete as the 'Bug Smasher'"; DEAN, "SOS is only as its glee club"; ED V., "A Chevy will almost fly like an F-80"; BOB, "There really was a captain's list after all"; ED L., "A 75 page staff study deserves an E"; BILL, "It takes more than date-of-rank to get on the cross-country list"; MAC, "You can lead horses to water---".

SECTION 36

On a typical day you might find: Tom Grooms never having to tell the section what to do twice (usually it took six times), Ron Bryan "obviously" preferring fighters over many-motors, Bill Hood trying to arrange a flight to Orlando, Pat Pattison wanting to go to the Green Lantern for steaks, Jim Wallace collecting dues to balance the books, Phil Mannino still wanting to buy a new Buick (cheap), Bob Cordle explaining the similarity between his Thunderbird and his F-100, Del Hinman following Jane's new-papa checklist, Ed Cowles sweating out the weekend cross-country list, Gerry Williams wondering what to plant on the back 40, John Redmon explaining how to flush a toilet in outer space, Don Brannon dreaming of a "cool" one, George Norton wondering why check point 5 was north of Birmingham, and Major Luksic wondering who tossed him so many hot pennies.

SECTION 37

We'll always remember our illustrious leader, Cliff Harmon, with his long pipe and mustache. Tiger Trek revealed Ben Benjovsky as a spy and Russ Swanson an outstanding Indian Scout. Fred Solorio wasn't bad looking but never combed his hair. Bob Davis' height proved handy in basketball. Rob Stubberfield also did well when standing on Bob's shoulders! Jim Young and Major McHugh still grumble at us for choosing basketball instead of soccer. Chuck Cutrell is still trying to get his car back. Mrs. Herndon's little boy, Gordon, wants another motorcycle for Christmas. Art Larkin waited fourteen weeks for Herb Lunsford to give him a chance to say something in seminar. Jim Phillips still talks about some silly typewriter. We finally graduated because professor Corliss Laisure solved all our problems.

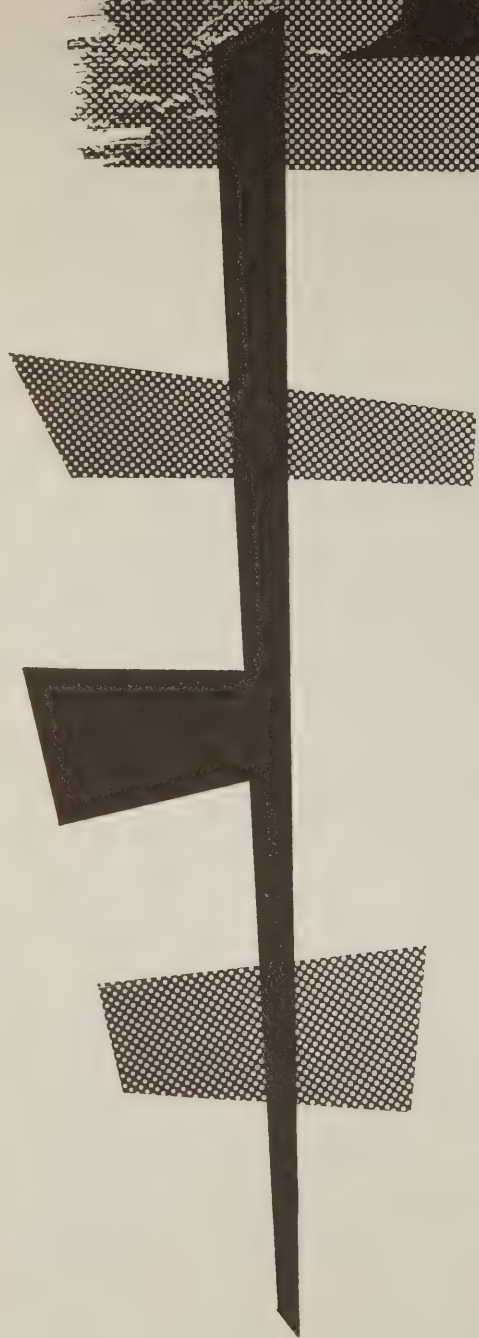

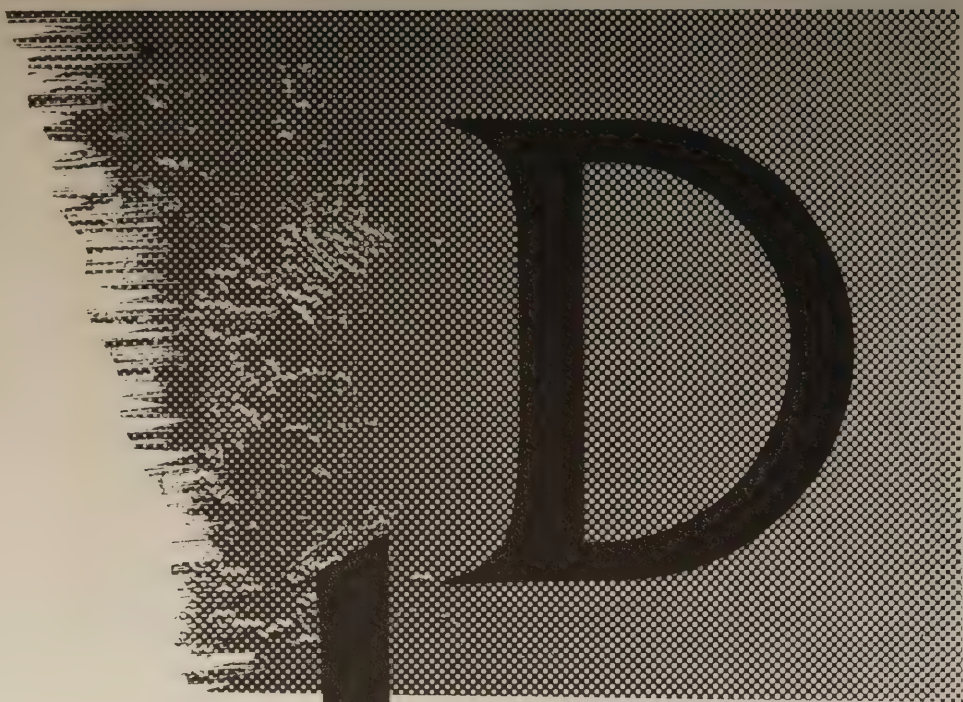

S E C T I O N 38

Of green-capp'd Section Thirty-Eight sing I.
A dodo bird that finally learned to fly.
A couchant pussy cat upon the bed,
That one day grew into a tiger dread.
Flutter, thou Muse of Song, from off some knoll
Beside Parnassus, with a Hudepohl
In one hand, and a bandage in the other,
Wherewith to wrap the bruises of each mother
Injured in friendly strife for our Trente Huete.
Sing Robey's "Alouette" ere you light,
And cry, "Let's hear some chatter!" in your flight.
Sing of that drizzling afternoon, all dark,
When Charley Powell, from outside the park,
His leg encased in plaster to the knee,
(Injured in basketball with Thirty Three)
Provided cheering for our victory.
Sing of the Tiger Trek Bill Waldrop led,
Until he did side-straddle hops instead.
Then Bill Green took the lead just as he should,
And guided us into an endless wood
Where mists rose from the ground whereon we stood.
But skies are darkest just before the dawn,
For as we climbed the ridge to get us gone,
Cheered by our sturdy Chaplain, B.J. Dier,
Who pulled a cot Dave Phelps pushed from the rear,
A rain crow, from a vine-festooned tree,
Cried out, just to encourage us, "Trente Huete!"

SECTION 40

We came, we saw, we conquered, we eleven of section 40. Arriving at SOS to think, communicate, and cooperate---We hoped, in the end to graduate. The good Dame Fortune was with us and we made it! Ably assisting and guiding us along our journey was Col. Herb--(You're running the show, BUT...) Bench, and Maj. Elbert (Come on gang, let's hustle) Kidd. Included in this little group of Air Power strategists were: T.J. (Nah it doesn't work that way) Brah, 'Buz (I'm a spectator) Buswell; Bill (Make bigger circles) Hyatt; Cec (Anyone for the club) Klem; Steve (Take a bow) Moss; Rich (First one today) Nelson; Dupe (Let's get organized next week) Dupree; Ross (According to the school solution) Rogers; Otto (Winningest coach since Rockne) Stewart; Ken (I don't like it here) Tucker; and Tom (All a matter of semantics) Thomas. This group of strangers bid their farewells as they depart the halls of concrete.....close friends, and comrades. May we meet again.

SECTION 41

When the dust settled on opening day of SOS, Section 41 found that it had 13 leaders assigned in addition to the section leader, "Whispering" John Wilson. After we lost our first game we decided that what we really needed was some followers. "Fearless Fosdick" Reitan cracked his whip, knocked a few heads together, and "Togetherness" became the motto of Section 41. The unique success of our section was the result of merging the divergent talents in a homogenous mess. "Big Daddy" Darlington, our authority on kids; "Cal" Calvert, who agreed, and then did things the way he had planned; "Andy" Anderson, our athlete and chug-a-lug champion; "Render the Fender" Bender, who was noted for his 10,000 word discussion on remaining single; Pat Patterson, who gave a very persuasive speech on blood, and we all had to donate to get him to shut up; "Boo Boo" Tom McHugh, who carried our banner; "Injun" Tom Johnson, who insisted that the Cherokees had signed a peace treaty with the U.S.; John Maddox, who gave a dissertation on the evils of cigar smoking; Vince Thompson, our cigar smoker; Barb Bush, our only girl; Mayo McLaughlin, who insisted that Project X would never replace beer drinking; and Joe Lemyre, who could always get out of the service and make a living as a Charades player.

SECTION 42

On 15 September 1958, Major Strand launched Section 42 on its Squadron Officer School career. Westerfield was our star in athletics and McLane was known for his good-looking knees. Major Schellhaus, our faculty advisor, was a very welcome member of the "Greenie Team". Charlotte King was in charge of the hula hoop. Brackenhoff started off seminars with a thought for the day: "Smile a while and give your face a rest". White wouldn't say a word, but Peterson always had a "Honey Report". All staff studies were outstanding, but Anderson's was the best for group competition. Some were very lucky: Rodgers and Fultz made "regular", Littlepage was re-assigned to Cannon AFB, N.M., Bogle, our deputy section leader, was re-assigned to the "lavatory" at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, Graber, a former tee-totler, became a connoisseur of fine wines; and Hicks, after many trips to the "Big A", became a motorcycle enthusiast.

S E C T I O N 43

Section 43 is composed of 13 students including "Mittie", our WAF. In addition, there are 6 wives and 12 children present and 2 wives and 4 children absent. Maj. Clarke, our section leader, and Lt. Col. Wilson, attached faculty, as well as their children, round out the personnel situation. We represent ADC, ATC, SAC, USAFSS, MATS, and HqUSAF. In formal get-togethers and family picnics have dominated the social scene. Softball was our chosen sport, Mac, Jack, Mittie, Pete, Little Pete, Arnie, Bob, Dick, Robert J., John, Tommy, Bill, George, Major "Scotty", and Col. "Bill" will be names remembered by each as the gang who formed the best section in class 58-C.

SECTION 44

Harry A.: "Security is a constant consideration"...Bill R.: "Fire the Bomarc's"...Keith B.: "But, Col. Ramer says..."...Bland S.: "Next, we will do finger-flicks and eye-opening exercises"...Karl W.: "I think I'll heave"...Jack F.: "But, the National Guard isn't ready"...Willie S.: "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country"...Tom S.: "Are you with me?"...Mitty M.: "You see what I mean?"...Joe T.: "Moral leadership is a must"...Mel L.: "Tomorrow? Has anyone got a subject?"...Walt E.: "Sick, sick, sick"...June K.: "I agree, I think that's just wonderful"...

S E C T I O N 45

"TOMORROW WE MUST GET ORGANIZED."

We gathered around the seminar table in the same manner as we assembled on the athletic field, at the library, at our picnics, on Tiger Trek, at Project X, at the club,....Q.J. was joking, Jerry was laughing, Billy was studying, Adams was relaxing, Steve was observing, Boede was tapping his fingers on the table, Vandy was puffing in his pipe, Coby was dozing, Dale was talking, Robbie was listening, John was unmoving, Woody was thinking, Gio expounding...when in walked J.J., our section leader--"Hello".

We organized, reorganized, organized, reorganized, organized.....And tomorrow good fellows, around the seminar table, or around the world, we shall organize again. We shall have more more years, more experience, more knowledge, more wisdom...And tomorrow, we must get organized!

SECTION 47

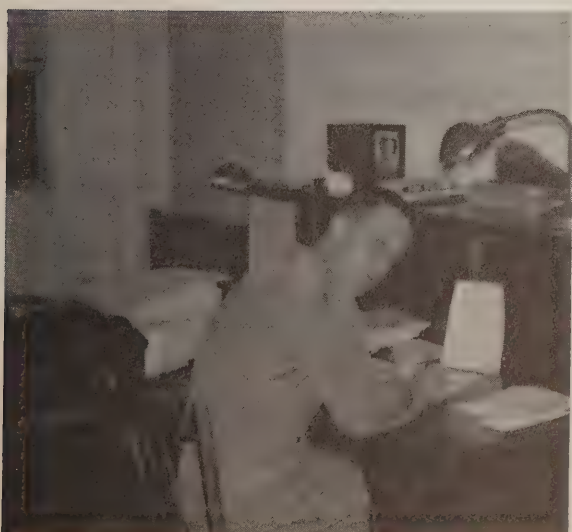

Stan: "You people have been scattered out for the last seven hours. If necessary, hold hands to stay together for the rest of Tiger Trek." Mitch: "You're aware, of course, that it was Wilbur and Orville Boeing who made the first powered flight." Sam: "Sleep Well America...Sex in a Satellite-let's ponder the problem of weightlessness." Joe R.: "The beer fund is out of money..again!" Joe M.: "Alright men, I'm slightly overweight. Let's start exercising." Al: "After close observation we all agreed she had the best 'military bearing' in the section." Ed: "If you watch the pennies, the dollars will take care of themselves." Ted: The fighter pilot that drinks "Whiskey Sours" through a straw. Curt: "That accounts for the hump on the back of the camel and the Sphinx's inscrutable smile." Pappy: "If he raises me one more time, I'm gonna peek at my hole cards." Pat: "My major accomplishment as a section operations officer was to star in an appendectomy." Mo: Tom Dooley..."The answers are easy, it's the problem that gives me the trouble." Paul: "The equipment section was out of basketballs, so they gave me the softball gear for our soccer game." Roy: "That turn was completely legal. You guys owe ten points."

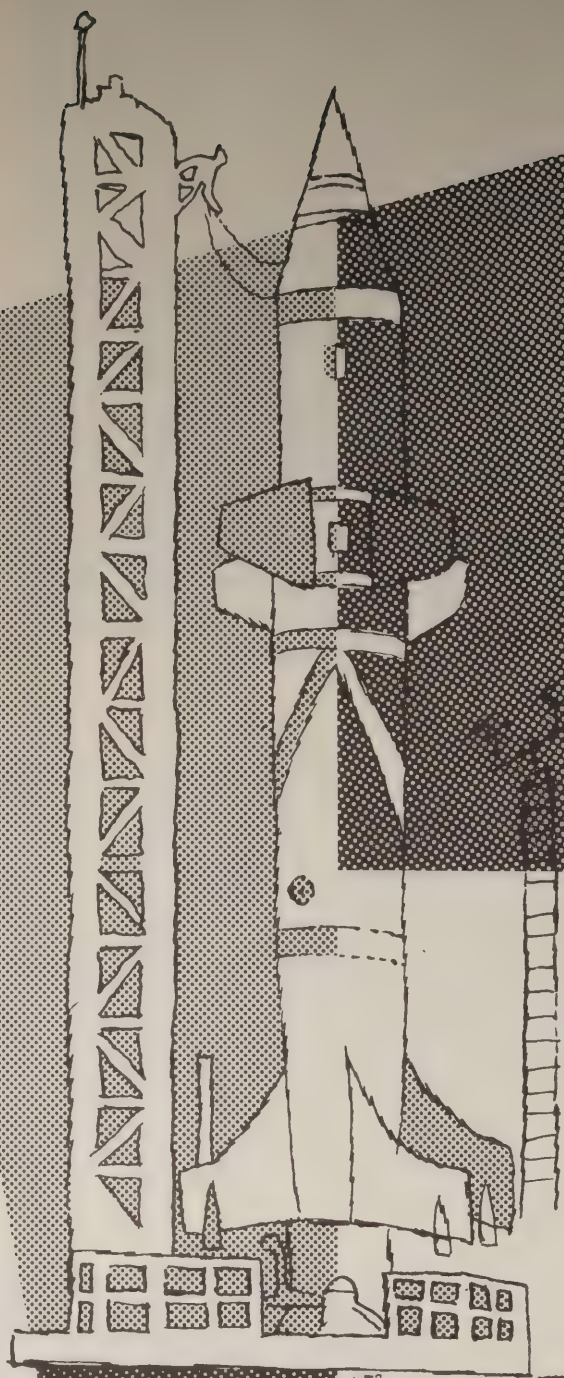

S E C T I O N 49

Section 49...the inspired product of the school IBM. Ray...SAC, the athletic rep who broke all records getting our red sox. Bill E...of AMC, rejected by IBM, rejected by AMC, and rejected maybe by TAC. This leaves SAC. Dave G...SAC, our social secretary whose capacity equalled the job. MO...Allied student from Pakistan-with his beret, he was a big spender from the East. Bill M...Weather...outstanding in his contributions to community relations and expert on the local P-TA. Mac...a large portion of ATV. His scarcity on weekends costs him his freedom. Dave Q...SAC,...known as "old blood sucker". If it wasn't money he wanted, it was a pint of blood. Naomi...our WAF rep from the academy lent a perfumed atmosphere to the seminars. George..SAC when he spoke, it was long and to the point. Jim...ATC, the deputy chief, living proof of RHIP. Oz..MATS, section spokesman, exponent of "unlimited war". John..ADC and 49's own guided missile. Leon..SAC. His classic statement, "My wife's not home, the party's at my house." Captain Sam, chief of the 49's and a man of many talents. His answer was the school solution: "Think, man THINK!"

SECTION 51

We had the right amount of everything but sleep. The academics were rigorous; the athletics, strenuous; the parties...wow! Just six full time wives, LaVonne, Mary, Ginny, Marie, Jean, and Rosie, but still a smorgasbord every Wednesday. What we lacked in talent on the athletic field, we compensated for with spirit. Red was our star. In the classroom there were no stars; just thirteen lesser lights. Capt. Hashem of the Royal Saudi Air Force, was a member of our section. We hope that his absence from family and country was as profitable for him as it was for us. Bruce Tobey, our senior member, proved himself a capable and effective leader. All of us will greatly benefit from the lessons in leadership displayed by our dedicated section leader, Capt. Kaseman.

S E C T I O N 52

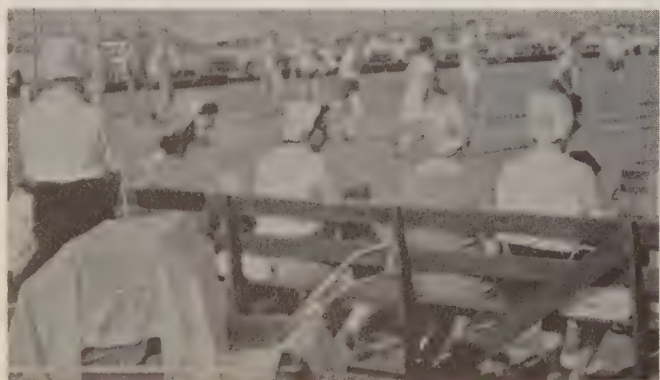

Memories are a fond thing. Who can ever forget....Bell, who led us to victory with his "magic-toe" in soccer... Sandy and his three friends, FDR, Red Cross, and de Seversky....Geno, who bought the Jewel Box and the Elks Club both in just 14 weeks....Ben, who got a broken nose in "non-combative" basketball....or Charley, who got a bitten arm in the same game and had the audacity to plead for blood....Roy, the "Big War's" contribution to the orchid raiser's association...."Poor Mouth" Joe, who always aced the tests... Col. Eagle and the school solution... Bob, who voted for basketball after every flickerball game....Dean, who can't wait to get back for Staff and Command School....Art, who scored in soccer with his head (even without his glasses)....John, whose favorite expression was "We're outta money again"....Bill, who'll take the flu shot next year if he can stay and train the refs....and finally Fred, the Gator, who'll be able to pronounce LENIN (LEN-EEN) some of these days?

SECTION 54

Compositely Section 54 is the most outstanding section in the Squadron Officer School Class of 58-C. They claim the distinction of having as one of their members, Chaplain Robinson, one of two chaplains in the entire student body. To cinch their claim to fame they point to their staff Judge Advocate, Captain Conner, likewise one of two in the entire student body. The career fields of these two officers provide the framework for the section motto: "Clean and Legal." The section has gold and white as its colors. Having winsome ways on the field of athletic competition, the last weeks of school found the men of "54" on the softball diamond. Here they pinned their hopes for formal recognition.

S E C T I O N 55

Section 55 is an entity. It has, within itself, the ability to communicate, cooperate, and graduate. This ability has been illustrated in varying degrees in our different endeavors. Tiger Trek showed so many leaders that we barely had enough followers to do the job. Project X had the opposite composition with the same result. On the athletic field, cooperative determination has carried our group of nondescript athletes to a commendable number of victories. The entity was expanded to include wives and lady friends for many social activities. Cocktails and dinner was the favorite sport, but the school solution called for flickerball. Nevertheless, the two were combined on Wednesday afternoons. On these occasions, beer was substituted for the cocktails; the chicken and "fixings" were unbeatable. Captain Kirby Bernich, fearless section leader, should long remember the fall season of 1958. The combined dilemmas of his first class and his new house assured lively problems every day. The entity, scheduled to be broken up at graduation, is planning a reunion in the 1960's. To be close to our work, the reunion will logically take place in the Pentagon.

SECTION 56

Section 56, led by "Cactus Jack" Hancock, achieved the recognition as the outstanding section in SOS. This status was obtained through superior effectiveness on Tiger Trek. Not a soul was lost, nor captured, and we were first to check in at each point. This was due to the shrewd use of our challenge and counter-sign system (which can now be de-classified) as "How-ta" and "Who-to". We were undisputed school Hula-Hoop champs, and maintained complete dominance of Flickerball during league play...These feats were gained only through the combined efforts of "Round-o" Schroeder, "Sore-foot" Van Aman, "Fatty" Arth, "Hula" Capinas, "Toro" Delony, "Coach" Holubeck, "Haircut" Lang, "Where's-the-ball" Lord, "Marg" McGinley, "Porsche" Molines, "Foggy" O'Banion, "Sidneykins" Woodcock, and "Preacher" Whitney...Remember these names...they are your future leaders!

S E C T I O N 57

Lest we forget...."Corvette" Voss, who came to us from the Grand Canyon state and brought SAC with him, and later added a red headed irishman...."Stargazer" Hartley and his Tiger Trek technique. Hartley plus Fredrick plus Keeton equal Captain....Buster "First In The Ditch" Keeton who set the example with his tactical approaches... The non-rated, highly-decorated, vociferous representative of Technological (ARDC) Warfare-"J.G. from W.P." (the only one ever extracted from a ball game by the Group Chief himself)..."Command Post" Beaudoin who "showed us how;" the one voted most likely to succeed if he can find his glasses guard...."Play Your Heart Out" Thompson, W.H.T. plus car minus muffler equal "Operation Gunter", Mr. Base Exchange himself...."Human Stretcher" Evans who offered his golf-course-guidance (and protest) and varied encouragement. "The F-105 will replace SAC."

SECTION 58

12 September was a memorable date,
13 men passed through Maxwell's gate.
These tough troops by whim of fate,
Were joined, and then called "58".
No group so impressed a school;
These suave mudders were really cool.

In school sports, they had the poop
That made them feared by every group.
They finished Project "X" with ease;
Thought "Tiger Trek" was just a breeze.
They soon rewrote every rule
That governs Squadron Officer School.

They said we were the chosen few,
But all we are is Black and Blue.
Fourteen weeks, they sure were tough,
Can we remember all that stuff?
Now, we're gone and we'll meander
Spreading all their propaganda.

Note from the Social Page of the Chariton, Iowa, Herald Patriot, Dateline: 15 September, 1959.

The first reunion of Section E-59, Class 58-C, Squadron Officer School, was held in Chariton yesterday under direction of Chariton's own Bob Wells. The day began early for the distinguished vistor with a tour through the new sewerage disposal plant, where Jack Calhoun gathered ideas on improving the plant at his base. A slippery spot on the walkway caused an accident as Dave Miller almost fell into a vat. Ralph Binder and Danny Daniels expressed amazement at the excellent condition of the grass on the runway of the Chariton Airport. A lively discussion ensued as Pete Hall and Ray Fender joined them, commenting on the modern facilities of our modest field. The visitors arrived at the Chariton High School at 11:30 a.m., where Jim Pitts gave a long informal talk to the students. During lunch, Doug Glasgow gave Coach Rowland some tips for the soccer team and Scotty Scott discussed modern education and SAC refueling operations with the faculty. The highlight of the evening was the banquet where Ray Marin gave a talk to Chariton officials on the Office of Special Investigation, and J.D. Rolan discussed the importance of electronic data processing to the Air Force. Jim Bloodworth concluded the most successful reunion with a review of Statistical Services and a description of his new duty in Spain.

Section 61 was molded into a unit under the deft guidance of "Red" Davis, our own Crimson Terror. The section never lost the thirteen personalities that made it worthwhile for us all. These personalities allowed us to develop and maintain a section spirit that continually inspired us. Our unity was evident in all of our many section activities which ranged from serious seminar study before each test to informal group problem solving in the BOQ room of our Viking gentleman, Trygve. We will remember the section war cry "hoo-aa" and the picnics that sustained us when we were hoarse from shouting it. We worked hard and we played hard, but Jim never let us forget that the steam that blows the whistle doesn't turn the wheels.

S E C T I O N 62

Some comments overheard from members of Section 62: "Now back when I was running Turkey." "I don't want to influence you, but it only costs a dollar to fish my pond." "Don't all bachelors go to bed with their Air Officers Guide?" "Let's have another beer." "Six lemons and a 5th of Vodka." "I like those French 75's." "I can't help it if they scheduled 3 teams for this end of the field." "Come up to my house and have a party." "Give me a pint of blood, my wife is here now." "Back in Texas when I was flying my DOG." "You don't have to take my word, I'll get the book." "I'm not nervous, I always shake this way." "I can concentrate better at 5 a.m..." "I can beat anybody to the overpass gate."

Those are the things they said; now here is who said them. Major "G", Major "K", John, Phil, Kris, Smitty, Lars, Wally, J.W., Tom, Bill W., Tony, Bryce, Carl, Willy. A good group of lads!!

SECTION 63

Another Thompson great -- welded into unity by singleness of purpose and strong, firm, guidance. We, his first students, will always remember with pride - in spite of his red pencils - Major Thompson, our first and only section leader. In our minds we will never forget our accomplishments such as: Bob's expert forecast for Tiger Trek (the first cool, rainy, muddy night)....Jack and Jim using our only compasses to navigate us into the wrong bushes....The many problems we were able to assume away, together....Our Faculty Advisor, Laird, large - mentally agile - fine speaker - athletic - and accident prone...Our victories in the pre-lims....The great sports - we beat....And the poor sports who beat us...Our losing Detroit to "Decoys"....Ray bombing Comingrad with-a C-130....Carl, our favorite speaker....T.D. for touchdown (or Tom Doane) and the victories he led....The Earl of Mudquire, aggressive, talented, and bruised....The two for one nights, the two for one mornings after....And above all, our lovely, cheering wives behind all of our accomplishments.

SECTION 64

Under the direction of "Charley Brown" Butler, "Rosy" Roseen, and "Andy" Anderson, the moon-men of Section 64 managed to provide some top-notch entertainment for our "way out there" airpower enthusiasts. It all started off when the "pizza packed Poppa" of 64 cooked up some of the tenderest Italian morsels yet seen in 532C. Must have been that cheese, Rosy! Then for no reason, except that it's Butler's policy, the parties got BIGGER and BETTER. The MATS special wine party...a mad dash through downtown Montgomery that saw the fighting team of Gridley cop first place in the section scavenger hunt. Other parties were sedate...Charley's Saturday evening socials at the officers' club...SOS night at Gunter...good times had by all.

But, parties were not the only high spots of the course. Tiger Trek, a study in mass confusion, saw us start the rigorous part of the program. Don wouldn't give us the answers (but, you could always ask), so the tests provided the first shock. After recovering we gave (they took) our money and our blood...yet, they were worthy projects! About this time, Duff wanted to know if this was really the moon...we were inclined to agree. Towards the end, Gerry Arthur, the silver tongued orator of 64, gave us the shock treatment in the Group speech contest. Through it all we were sustained by the thought of our athletic prospects. Unhampered by a sense of fair play, and lacking in height, we managed to stay well hidden at the bottom of the flickerball league. In our fight for the "cellar rat championship", we proved conclusively that a team can lose with five men in the penalty box and two on the field!

The mad scientist of the section, Charlie Smithpeter, succeeded in convincing Ed Godec, that digital computers are bi-sexual. "Have Whip Will Travel" Alexandre, was expelled from Sunday School for offering to "shoot it out" with the Chaplain. Bill Lewis proceeds from Maxwell to his new assignment as liaison officer with the Sealy Mattress Company; while Roy Green bugs off on a second honeymoon. Roy won the Section Safety Award for most holiday miles traveled without a mishap. Did you hear the sighs of relief from the club staff when Herb departed? He had them in a state of terror for 3 months. Joe Luhn and Jim Gridley succeeded in convincing the school that it would be more efficient and inexpensive to deliver the "A" bombs to the target by commercial airliner. Rosy's plush assignment came through...ROTC, Saudi Arabia.

It seemed like a long time coming, but, finally, graduation was near, and with it the end of another phase of our Air Force career. We knew everyone in Section 64 pretty well by now...friends that have shared a unique experience. The better halves...Nan, Barb, Dianne, Paula, Terry, and Betty, were a real help to us throughout the program. And, Don O'Connell, a Section leader who had shown us true hospitality and helped us over the school solution. As we left SOS for our home bases, we knew the program had really given us something.

SECTION 65

Who made our team supreme? Everyone said, "'Tis me." Jerry said, "'Twas the superior instruction." We put the problem before the section. With our usual cacapronious vicissitudes, we proceeded, unhampered by logic, originality, intelligence, or school solution, to find the answer. We have analyzed each man: Jerry - Leader of men and distributor of beer... John - Consumer of beer... Joe - Noisy, loud-mouthed introvert... Dick - A procurer of food and booze... Howie - Tells foul, vulgar jokes... George - This man became obsolete with the B-36... Jim - Our athletic supporter who led us to the heights of mediocrity... Barney - A secret agent for the Maffia... Herm - Our heavy ground-supporter equipment... Del - A prolific writer of trash... Mac - A low, vulgar Irishman with quiet mannerisms... Bill - He's got the whole world in his hands... Dee - A "Poor-Soul Texan" who can't ride a barrel.. Shock - Great Scott! Is he our man?... After many smothered verbs and dangling modifiers, we have the solution to the problem: We all made our team supreme.

SECTION 66

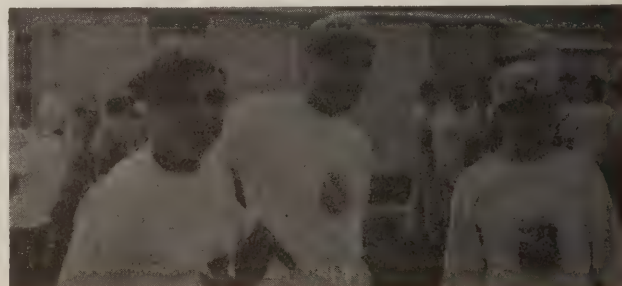

Ron was our orator and Ed was our soccer coach. Bill Strunk became a regular while at SOS. Bill Sanders was our deputy section leader and chief student honcho. Jake was our this-that-the other Paducah Kid. Fred was our capable chef on Wednesday afternoons. Pete, with his wit, novel approaches, and humor, added fireworks to each seminar. Herb was our lone ADC representative, and Hal was our non-rated staff type officer. Browning was just eligible for SOS. Dorsey was our volleyball coach and all-around athlete. Glenn was a B-47 navigator and was sold on SAC and spot promotions. Van was a conscientious contributor from MATS, and Ray was our chief "sitting bull" who always kept us fired up around the 66 Tepee.

S E C T I O N 67

In Sept., 1958, a new era was started under the supervision of Maj. "Country Boy" Jackson; neverbefore in the annals of SOS history has such a group been brought together. "Toad" Welch was selected as Deputy Section Leader because of his unquestioned superiority in date of rank. "Velvet Voice" Amodt, Toad's assistant, was selected under the same critical judgement. Early in the season, "Turtle Leader" Fox helped us decide basketball was not our game. He also became the undisputed swimming champion during Project X. Because of a fabulous preseason game, we decided to select softball as our sport. Under the leadership of "Losing Coach" Andler, and with an unapproachable battery like Terry Stone, "Dangerous Dan" Lassetter, "Rag Arm" Christians, and "Ira Rogers" McGroarty, and with fielders like "Laughing Boy" Lepthien, "Fumble Fist" Cummings and "Chrome Dome" DelVecchio, we formed a ball team of unprecedented potential. With Toad, our section brain "Sex" Marsh, and our lover boy "Grandma" Collomb filling slots as bat boy, scorekeeper, and water boy, we could taste the fruits of victory. Fortunately, early in the program, we recognized the overall effect our superiority would have on our contemporaries. To keep incentive, morale, and esprit-de-corps among the other sections, and allow other students to benefit from the learning outcomes, our main effort was then turned toward making the other sections look good.

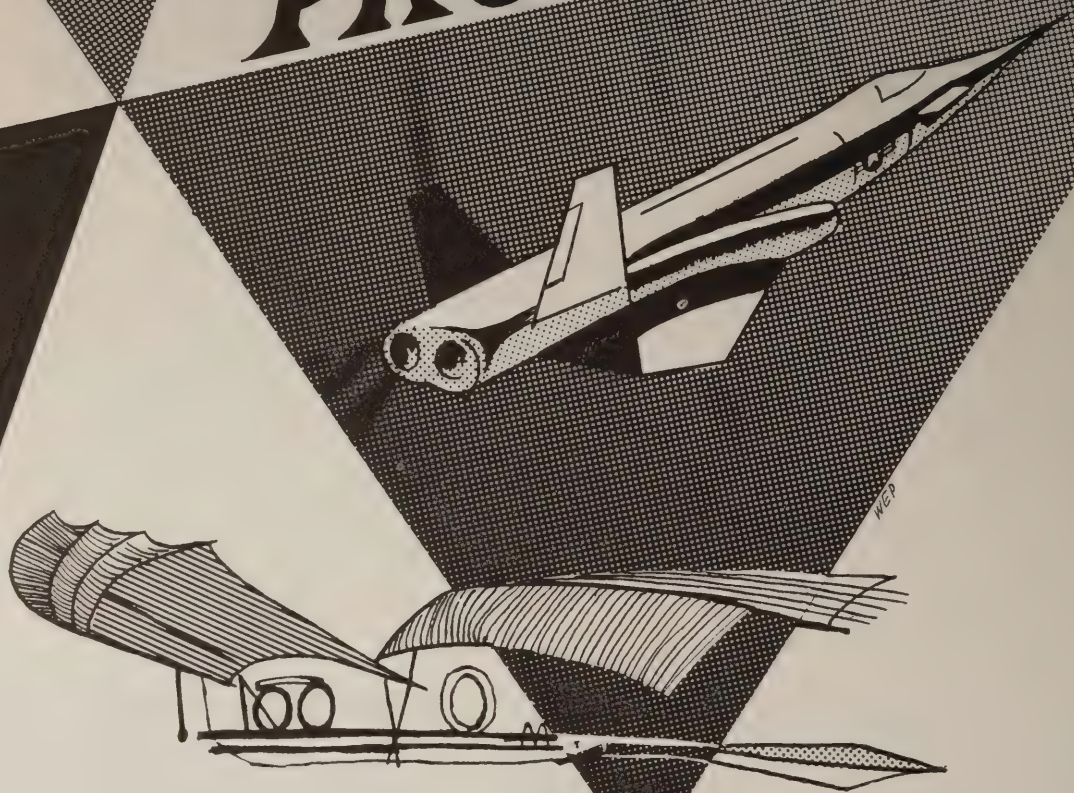

SECTION 68

Section 68 distinguished itself by utilizing the concept for employment of people. Our outstanding virtue has been the unselfish cooperation of every individual toward achieving group satisfaction. We'll remember the Major for his "You can play anything as long as it's soccer!"---Joe, "You have to get your jollies!"---Al, "Get in your flapping wind sprints." Agile Andy under the soccer goal--Sam, the communist infiltrator---Bo, our young General Anderson---Ernie, our weekend warrior---Chic, our smooth talking casanova---Fitz, our hulking soccer player---John, of the unswerving opinion---Dave, "Well, when I was in Army ROTC..."---"Wild Bill" our "Groooooooooop" Commander--Harry, all round ability, our team captain--Skip, our rumpled old soldier--and Sam, a key man on the team, our athletic supporter. We wish success to Major Reger and future 68s.

SECTION 71

A million Mongol horsemen were standing by their mounts, listening to their leader tell of recent battle counts.

He spoke to his old adjutant, making records in the stone, and the old man chipped away, as if they were alone.

They know he speaks the truth to them, they know he'll do his best. Half the world they now own---well what about the rest?

Up spoke his Lieutenant, brainstorming for the group. Silence fell upon the Mongols to listen to his scoop.

"To win the remainder of the world a method would be needed." The adjutant still chipped away as the Lieutenants advice was heeded.

And so it was upon this way that academics 'came seeded. A Mongol fit with half a wit was all that went to breed it!

SECTION 72

Seventy-two, affectionately known on campus as "Miller's Marauders", is best described by that old aphorism, "All Chiefs and No Indians." Unfortunately, on occasion, we were slightly handicapped by this miscalculation spewed forth by that ogre, IBM. However, it can never be said that aggression was not one of our attributes. After winning a particularly hard-fought soccer game, one of the "Marauders" overheard an official saying to his cohort, "This was the roughest soccer game I have ref'ed during my two years at SOS." Many sections have left their imprint at Squadron Officer School. The "Marauders" have left theirs. Stories of their feats during "Tiger Trek" will be related as traditions. No section in the future will ever equal the fantastic record, "One hundred yards by 0200."

S E C T I O N 73

Led by our fearless leader, "A Good Job Men, But" Greif, we settled down to 15 weeks of organized liquid fuel consumption. Future years will bring tears to our eyes when we remember "Budha" Baker's love for French politicians, "Bubble Belly" Sliger the night he borrowed "77's" flag. Old "104" Stewart carried the section in our athletic events assisted by "No Body-Contact" Gray. Other sections had their above-average scholars and athletes. We didn't go out for such foolishness! We exceeded at the bar; a noble quality. This class occupation was almost lost when "Prohibitionist" Ost tried to wreck the section still. Nightly "Bible Study" conducted at the the Officers' Club stag bar caused "There Ya' Go" Cupfinger and "How Come You No Come" Comes to be posthumous AA graduates. Dr. "Big Orange" Fort maintained the health program which helped "Tank" Holmberg in his Tiger Trek jungle walk, and who will forget "Irish" Eisenberg's gory weekend trip to Boston and return? "Bare Lip" Bennett lost his mustache on the soccer game bet while "No Sweat" Les was sweating out his drinking privileges along with "Where Are We Going" Norm Thompson. So, in the years to come, remember "73's" motto: "Let's have a party."

[180]

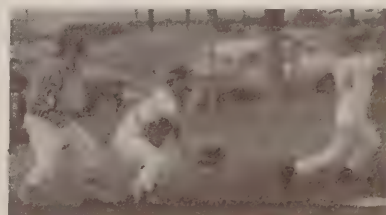

S E C T I O N 74

"74...THE HARD CORE" Little did we suspect as we met our first seminar, that from such a distinguished group of "fighter pilots, lovers, big spenders, and intellectuals", would eventually come an outstanding softball team! As the Wednesday's limped by and the bumps and bruises of Mayhem Meadows took their toll of our intrepid band of Stalwarts, the survivors rallied to Ernie's cry, "Let's go, Gang--remember we're all here on an athletic scholarship!" Supported by Chappy, the man with the "Golden Arm" and the ability of "Lead-off man" Glyn, we made the softball diamond sparkle, despite the plaintive cry from Mal in the outfield--"You guys quit hollering at me, I get all confused." On the sidelines Bob took another of his "Happy pills" while trying to convince "Gimpy" Porter that the agony of "Hanging by my fingers..." was worse than a mere trick knee.

In a typical learning situation in the seminar, Rich (bleary-eyed) would mutter, "This studying interferes with my social life!", to the newly married "World Traveler", Bill who was trying to dope out the "learning outcomes" of matrimony. Across the smoke-filled room Hoppy confidently bragged, "No sweat-SAC will take care of you guys"....while Marv's retort, "If it weren't for ADC, SAC would be useless"...would bring Smitty to his feet with a shout of-"Hey, Airman!"-to stop the incipient bloodshed. In a quiet corner "Cross-country" Jack was learning the mathematical probability of his getting another T-bird from Professor "Size 15" Howell while Bangs-all responsibility and no authority-vainly called for order so our financial robber-baron, Ron, could plead, "I need another buck from each of you RIGHT NOW."

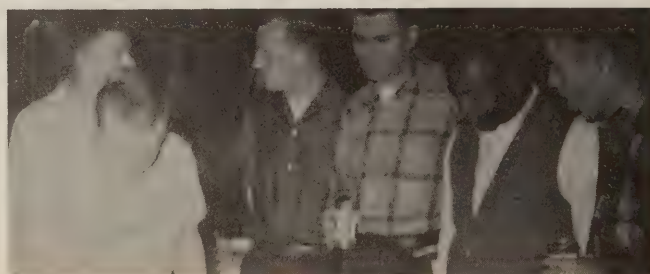

Our appreciation goes to Major Porter for successfully transforming his first class from an ungainly bunch of "barn smells" into a highly-polished, smoothly integrated group of "onion breaths" in only 14 weeks, and to our wives, who cheered us through our games victoriously and who in many cases were "mid-wives" at the early morning births of our Staff Studies and Air Power Reports.

SECTION 75

Squadron Officer School could not teach us anything about leadership! Our section consisted of "All chiefs and no Indians." Everyone wanted to run the show. As a result, our seminars were filled with such remarks as, "Just listen to what I have to say." We solved only one Project X problem although many people got wet. We almost completed Tiger Trek (What has this got to do with leadership?) and we ended up playing basketball because we could not agree on what sport we really wanted. The cast in these unforgettable acts consisted of: "Great White Father" Tomchesson, "Red Eye" Bowles, "Graceful" Estep, "The Sheik" Farha, "Remember the Non-Rated" Fontaine, "Fat Boy" Hineline, "Hoppy" Holley, "Jungle Jim" Junge, "Truck Driver" Kavookjian, "All Pigs Are Equal" Maloney, "Preacher" Pyle, "I don't Trust You" Skvorak, "Weekend Commuter" Vachino, and the one who kept us confused all the time, "You Can Win" Lines.

S E C T I O N 76

HEAR YE, HEAR YE! Fellow officers of Squadron Officer School...look upon these names and never forget them, for they shall be milestones of the future. As yet, they are mere pebbles, shifting with the tides of knowledge and experience. But, in the not too distant future, depending on circumstance and fate, the men listed here will leave a deep and lasting contribution to Air Power. The souls named herewith have manifested daily the "SPIRIT OF 76"; whether it be academics, sports or leadership, the spirit has come forth. Hark, for now we shall identify ourselves. Read you now our names, for later you shall heed our spirited command. Allison - Ernst - Glowacki - Hlavac - Hodges - Hughbanks - Jonekos - Igelman - Khan - Stegall - Stoner - Valdengro - Williams.

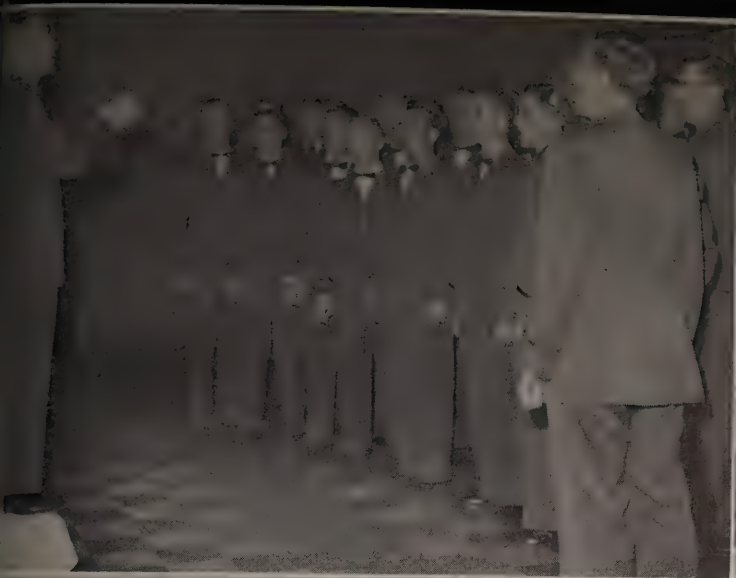

S E C T I O N 77

Amid chaos, the paths of 14 individuals converged at SOS. This is their epic and their evolution into Team 77. Bill was initially buried under the paper that descends on all SOS deputy section leaders. Activities at "Mayhem Meadows" demonstrated that we were not star athletes, as Hal will verify. Even Col. Rawlings has the scars to prove it. The brightest part of our athletics was Frank's "ready" cooling refreshments. After the first exam, we also discovered that we were not scholars. "Sage" Ken's tutoring managed to pull us up to par. On Project X, Sam spanned the raging torrent. Tiger Trek was the downfall of Heshy and Dick; they fell to the enemy. As the brood scattered, Major Watson filled the role of the "Mother Hen". Meanwhile, back in the classroom, Gene attempted to organize while Van and Harry debated the merits of ADC and SAC. The "traveling one", Tullos, collected cultural information throughout the Southeast.

SECTION 81

Poor ole' Dan walked into the section room and with sad face and mixed emotions stated, "With the good Lord's help, we might get through the program." Dan was in for a surprise because academic and athletic accomplishments came easy to this conglomeration of souls. SAC's contribution to this mighty array of talent was "60 Minute Man" Hays, "Speedy" Bunting, and "Let's Go to the VFW" Cantwell. ATC sent along "Big Dick" Derridinger, "Gordo" Milliken, Bob "I Think You'll Find" White, and Chaplain "Heat Seeker" Mikesell. ADC spared "Swivel Hips" Monahan, "Joyfull Jake" Jacobson and the one-and-only "Billy Boy" Givens. MATS sent a real playboy in "Guzzler" Liby. "Brains" Lofton from CONAC turned out to be a real orator. Charlie "Let's Start A War" Clark from Maxwell rounded out the assortment of bodies that constituted Section 81.

S E C T I O N 82

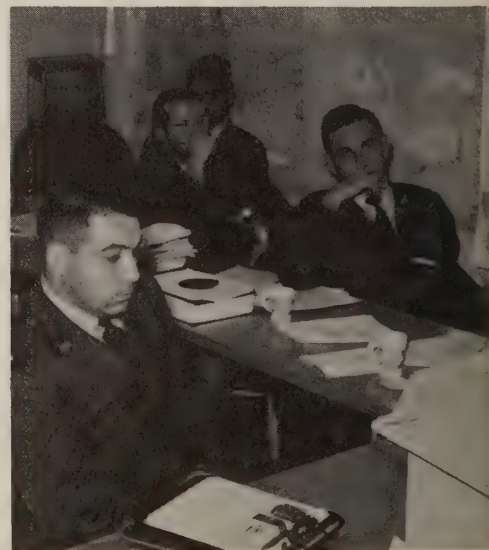

What a section - what a section! Just what the doc ordered for old, tired career officers. The IBM machine must have blown a fuse when it sorted out the 13 "highly selected volunteers" for Section 82. We received no slew-footed, club-footed athletic types. We didn't get one of those "the world owes me a living" types, nor did we get a "big spender from the east" or a "Clarence Cream Puff". This was the most homogenous, compatible group of officers ever thrown together with little or no regard for personalities, education or training. Although we didn't have a star in athletics, win, lose or draw, the competition knew it had been in a head-on collision because of the terrific hard-spirited team work on the part of every section member. We had the rare luck of being supported to the last bloody gasp by a one-in-a-million section leader and understanding, loving wives.

SECTION 83

"Let's See What The Manual Has to Say" Ellingson had afternoon duty on the Section 83 radio scope for the first time. On reporting for duty on 15 September, he found thirteen blips on the scope. Having detected these strangers, he had to identify each one and determine if interception and destruction was essential. Fortunately, we turned out to be friendly "blips". Jimbo "Scrag" Alford, "One Leg" Bennett, "Saglek" Bushong, Chubby "Nap in the woods" Hester, and "Ravin" Hall were identified as ADC chicks. "Pa" Goodwin, "Let's Have a Toon" Pomatto, "Arm Rotation" Timmons, "Jose" Ferari were identified as SAC Big Brothers. "Anti-School-Solution" Holmes was cleared as a MATS star gazer. "Fallen Arches" King and Coach "Nervous" Navas were coming in from ATC. "Brittle Bones" Craig was coming in on a missile from ARDC and talking all the way. "Bert" guided us in for a perfect pancake on his first duty at the helm of Section 83. With his guiding hand at the scope and the words, "Fellows, if you problem-solve, ya' got it made" from our senior controller, "Punchy" Davis, all of our "hot scrambles" have been successful. Socially, we have shined at the SOS Center, especially when the wives brought those fine dinners. We have also made our contributions to the Maxwell and Gunter Clubs and the Elks. To Major "Bert" and Lt. Col. Davis, we say "thanks" for everything, and may we all meet again some day.

SECTION 84

"Do the right thing, men, but WIN", said the Section Leader the day 13 strangers got the word that they were in Section 84. We started slow, but we came back with a genuine "Lautenboomer". This is the way it went: Abe, "I'm a real lover"; Floyd, "Okay"; Oscar, "Let's have a party"; Fitz, "You think about some other possibilities, I'll worry about this"; Carl, "I don't know what's wrong with everybody else, I like SAC"; Gordo, "Column-Right"; Hoss, "Follow me to point one"; Ray, "Who's got my notes"; Mat, "Let me give simple explanation"; Lou, "I'm going to put a short joke in my speech"; Rog, "I'm right behind you, Hoss"; Jim, "What would you do if you found $10,000?"; Glenn, "My kids were crying to three o'clock in the morning"; and Our Glorious Leader, "It' began like a normal day--get up, brush your teeth, throw up."

SECTION 85

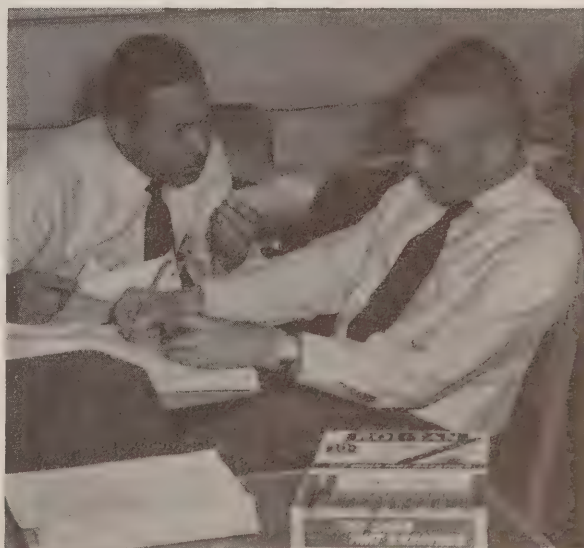

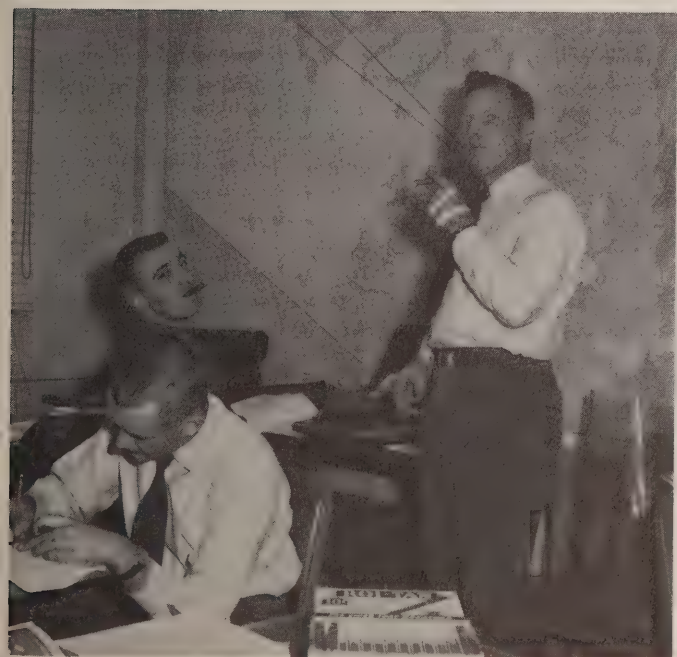

Led by "Able Mable" Henderson, Section 85 established a right proud name for itself. For those who managed to survive the rigors of the lectures, seminars, Mayhem Manor, and Tiger Trek, there shall be no forgetting of the "Terrible Twosome", McCausland and Moraski - Art and his left-right combination on the "dust bowl court"- "McGoo" and his fourteen weeks of humorous wit-"Bellow Whiskey" and his soccer exploits-"Old Dependable" Holloway, never a wasted word-"Fakey" Martin and his incredible ability to dribble a soccer ball in the heat of battle-"Smitty", a "rootin' tootin'" rebel from the Solid South-"Steady" Dillow always able to tie up loose ends-"The Booter" Waller, consistent in every endeavor-"Goalie" Miller, fearing no soccer player or salesman-Hopkins, the boy wonder from TAC-and most of all, the battle cry of Section 85...Kleppppengerrrrrrr!

SECTION 86

Many events of singular importance have taken place in Section 86 during the days of Class 58-C. On the Tiger Trek, ours was the only section to successfully lose a man for eight hours. For good or for bad, we were known as the "most partying" section. Section 86 was always the last and the "happiest" that ever left any of the parties. We will always remember: Calhoun - and his monstrous dog; Canpana - and his jaunts to D.C.; Griffith - and his peg leg, Huntress, Worm, Salisbury - all expectant fathers, Hurley - sponging a ride, Hurt - T score buster, Kral-engaged to Beverly; Lee - coaching volleyball; Powell - "I'm against it."; Rohan - "a party a day"; Yanko - liked to play ball.

SECTION 87

Some comments from the members of Section 87: Dick-"What's wrong, fellows?" Tom-"Well, if no one has anything else, we can start the seminar." Larry "But, fellows, I'm not really ambidextrous." Sami-"Another classified period? I'll run over to the Embassy." Jim-"Charlie, do you really want the school solution?" Dick-"One more study session should do it." Joe-"Have you all flipped your wickers?" Frank-"This C-45 checkout program is a program?" Bob-"No, fellows, you can't dribble on a dirt court." Ernie-"I'd like a soda with a dash of bitters." Louie-"What's the next line to the SAC prayer?" Max-"You got to get in there and dig, MAN." Ed-"You can use this principle of employment, etc. ; etc." Phil-"A sprain? Just run it out."

THE FINAL WEEK

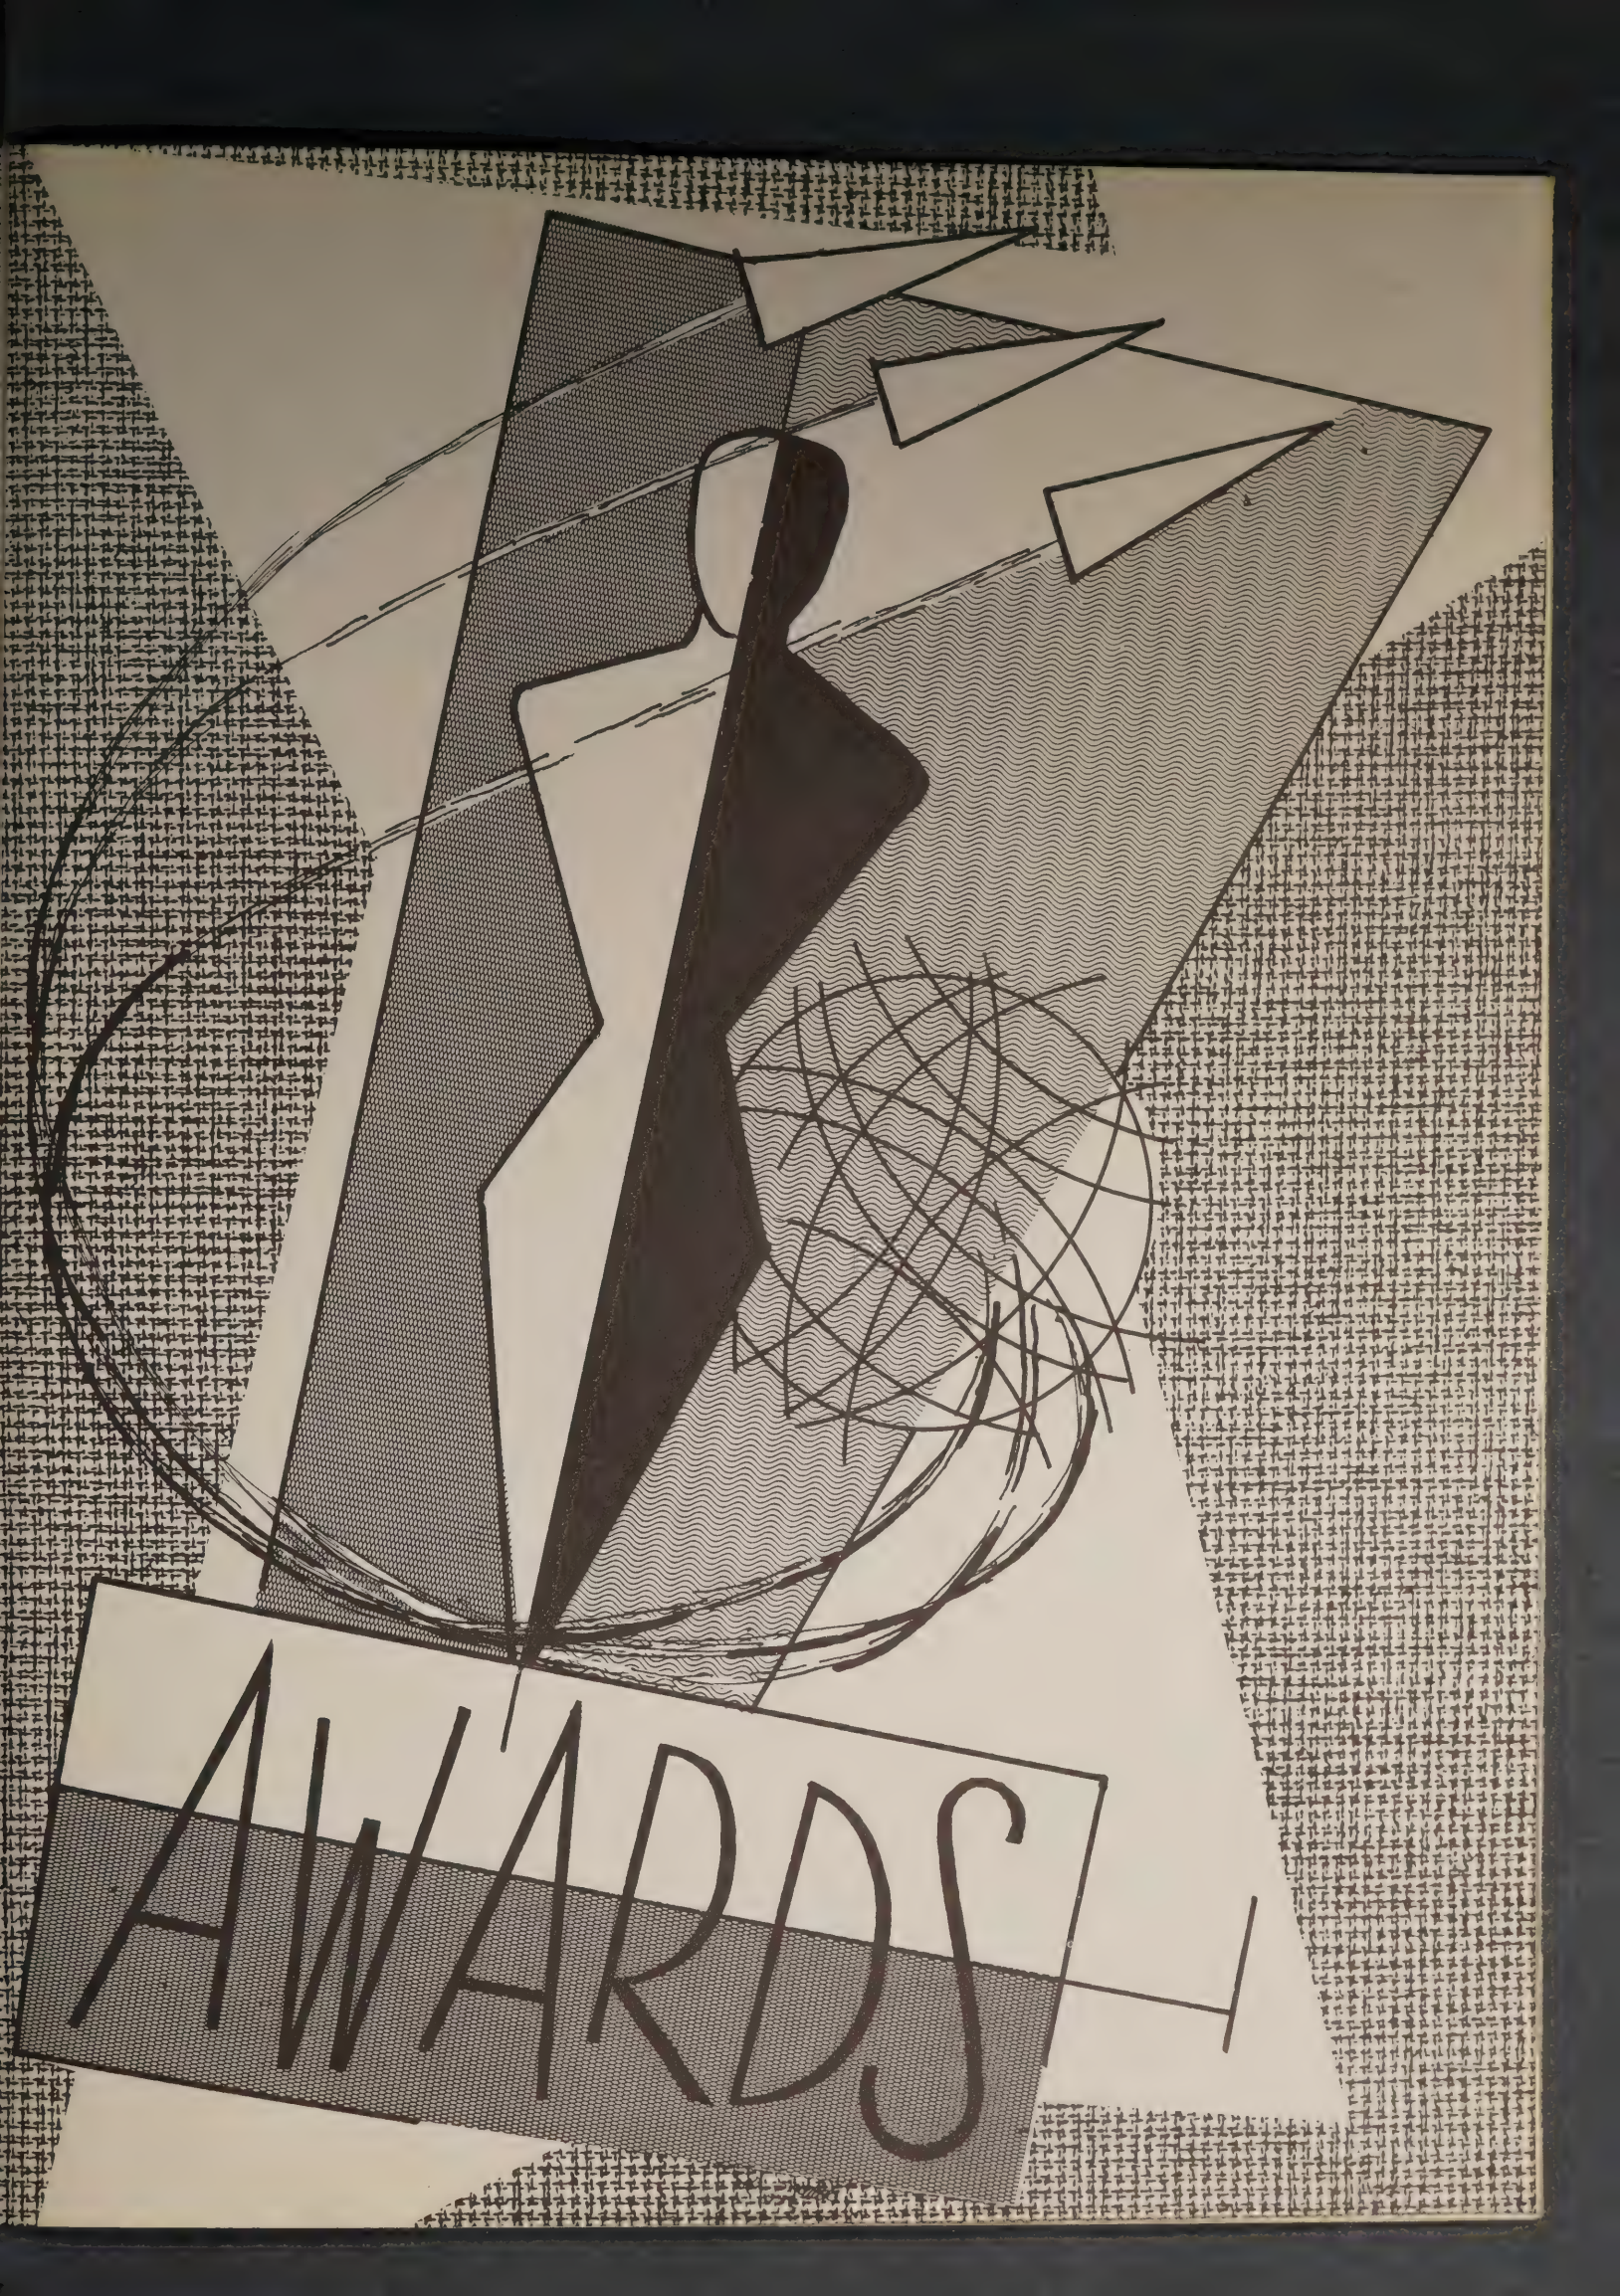

The services at S.O.S. Sunday were led by our Chaplain Montgomery. His little talks during the year were always interesting and inspiring. The GLEE CLUB presented the music. Indeed, this was the finest glee club to ever attend S.O.S.

S.O.S. Sunday, 14 December, was the beginning of the last week at the Squadron Officer School.

Although we had worshipped at the Base Chapel, and various Montgomery Churches during the year, the service on S.O.S. Sunday was held in the POLIFKA AUDITORIUM because of the large size of Class 58-C.

AWARDS

CHIEF OF STAFF TROPHY

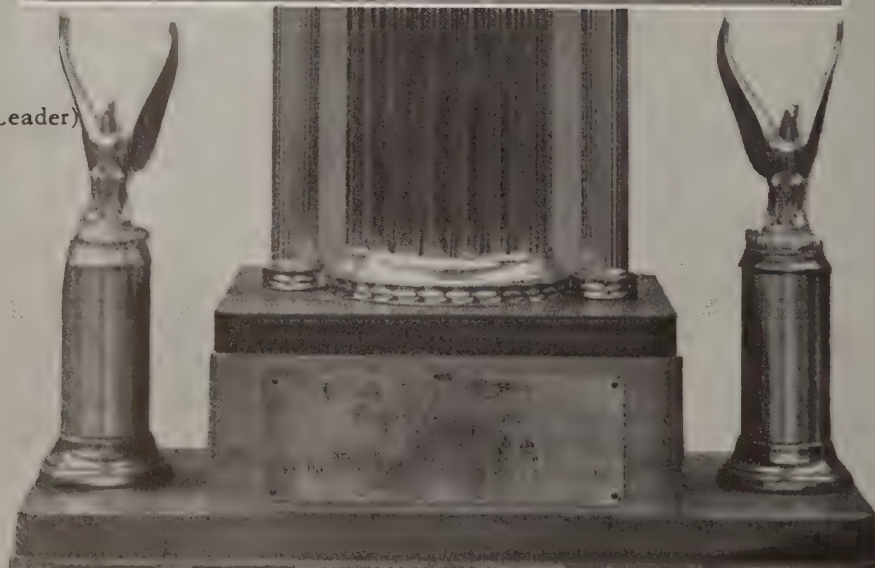

The CHIEF OF STAFF TROPHY, originally presented by the late General Hoyt S. Vandenberg, is the highest honor a section can attain at the Squadron Officer School.

Lt. General Walter E. Todd, Commander of Air University, presented the trophy to Section 74 on behalf of the Chief of Staff. The certificate that accompanies the trophy reads in part "To the section whose collective actions and achievements reflect the highest standards of personal, professional, and moral integrity. Your outstanding performance exemplifies the finest qualities desired in officers of the United States Air Force."

COMMANDANT'S TROPHY

The COMMANDANT'S TROPHY is presented to the student in each Squadron Officer School Class who possesses, to the highest degree, the attributes desired of an Air Force Officer.

To be considered for this award, the officer's integrity must be without blemish; he must be enthusiastic to a degree of positively affecting others. This officer must be so motivated that there is no doubt as to his sincerity; he must demonstrate and verbally express his dedication to the Air Force. His moral character must be impeccable. The academic standing of the recipient must be in the upper portion of his class. The personal appearance of the officer must be exemplary; his physical condition excellent. This man must be an outstanding junior officer---one that realizes the Air Force way of life, and one who is willing to sacrifice personal acclaim for service to his country.

The COMMANDANT'S TROPHY was presented by Colonel Robert J. Loughry, S.O.S. Commandant, to Capt. W.C. Ferguson, USAF.
